VI. Election Time!

Today was the day that applications were due for applications for exec board. What we are going to do is do something a little less formal. We will be taking nominations from the floor next week. So if you want to be the secretary you ask someone to nominate you next week and then we will be having a voting session. NCC is the national communications coordinator. All the other positions are pretty fluid. If you have any questions please come and talk to us we are pretty knowledgeable on the topic.

Jenn-Some of the different position. Ebonii runs the exec and the general assembly meetings. She also meets with the advisor once a week. Each of the positions runs committees. If you have something specific that you would like to do then this would give you the power to fulfill your dreams. Also, we don't have quorum so please have everyone come!

Ebonii-My spring break was amazing...I had the best week of my life in Puerto Rico. There are people of all different races. So anyone can fit in. Two random things that you might not want to know but I'm going to tell you anyways. All the guys had their eyebrows arched. All the guys are the prettiest men we had seen. All the ladies...so JLo is Puerto Rican. All the girls have HUGE butts. It seemed impossible. It was gorgeous. Everyone should go. You don't need a passport. It costs $20 to ride the taxi down the street.
