

SMU Dedman College Interdisciplinary Institute (DCII), Women and LGBT Center, and Women and Gender Studies Program Present

WORKSHOP: IMPLICIT BIASES AND MICROAGGRESSIONS IN U.S. COLLEGE SETTINGS: APPLYING A C.H.A.N.G.E. APPROACH TO COMMUNICATION WITH AAPI AND “IMMIGRANT” WOMEN FACULTY

DR. YEA-WEN CHEN

Director of Institute for Dialogue & Social Justice, San Diego State University

DR. BRANDI LAWLESS

Chair & Professor of Communication, University of San Francisco

As part of the Asian, Asian American, and Pacific Islander Voices in Higher Education Symposium, this workshop will expand your understanding and skills about:

- Implicit biases and microaggressions facing Asian American, Pacific Islander, and “immigrant” women faculty.
- How to address those biases and microaggressions in academic spaces.
- How to use a C.H.A.N.G.E approach to promote more inclusive communication practices.

More info? Visit

<https://people.smu.edu/AAPISymposium/>

April 25, 2023

1:45 – 3:45 PM CDT

Prothro Hall

Please pre-register at

<https://tinyurl.com/SMUAAP123>

This workshop is part of the Asian, Asian American, and Pacific Islander Voices in Higher Education Symposium. Speakers express their own views and not necessarily the views of the the Dedman College Interdisciplinary Institute (DCII) or Southern Methodist University.